“Psychodynamics Makes Easy” workshop

Our mind is like an iceberg. For each behavior, there are underlying conscious or unconscious reasons. Psychodynamics can help us to explore the unconscious and investigate the subsoil of the mind. The point of psychodynamics is to understand what's happening inside our inner world and find out the roots of behavior, perception as well as emotion at unconscious level.

For different mental disorders, each has an unconscious secret order. When this inner situation is not made conscious, it appears outside as fate. Psychodynamics is one of the best methods for dealing with the darkness of mental disorders by working through and making unconscious conscious.

This workshop will cover different fundamental Psychodynamic Theories, namely Freudian, Kleinian and Jungian. Complicated concepts will be explained and discussed in simple terms. After this workshop, you will be more clear about what's happening in inner world and have a better connection of your unconsciousness with consciousness!
